Filter optimization

1. Inspect the frequency response of every channel by clicking on the channel selection buttons.
2. Set the desired target response for each channel/ channel group by clicking and dragging the breakpoints on the target curve.
3. Press the "Optimize" button and wait for the optimization process to complete.
4. Press "Save Filter" to select a name for the filters.

What is this?

- The main plot area shows the frequency response (default) or impulse response of one or more channels.
- Left and right speakers are normally grouped into pairs in order to facilitate setting a common target response.
- Channels can be grouped or ungrouped by clicking and dragging one channel selection button onto another.
- The target response is visible in frequency-response mode and defines the desired frequency response. Breakpoints can be added by double-clicking on the
